The Hidden Talent of Phoenix Fox

Kristina Radkevich

"Phoenix was just like any other fox. He lived a happy life in the forest with his friends."

When Phoenix's friends decide to hold a talent contest to find the most talented animal in the forest, Phoenix's happy world comes crashing down around him. His friends are better than him at everything they do. With no special talent of his own, he longs to be the best at just one thing. But what?

A Girl Called T.O.M: Granny for Sale

Jackie Marchant Illustrated by Loretta Schauer

"It's true. I really did try to sell my grandmother. Before I explain why, let me tell you something about her."

When Tom's granny returns from her latest world travels, Tom is alarmed to hear that not only is she moving in with them, but that Tom is expected to share a bedroom with her. Tom's granny is one of life's eccentrics and where she goes, chaos follows. True to form Granny immediately turns Tom's life upside down, not helped by Tom's super-hero obsessed dad, her quirky, yoga-teaching mum and weirdly obsessive little brother. Desperate to get things back to normal, Tom lists her granny for sale on e-Sellalot, more as a joke than anything else. But it's when bids actually start rolling in in ever-increasing amounts that the trouble really starts!

The Curiosity Club: Alice Alone

Sally Harris Illustrated by Janette Hill

"Where do you run when your former best friend tips their lunch straight into your lap?"

When Alice Chang starts out at her new school, everything isn't quite as rosy as she'd dreamed. First, she falls out with previous best friend, Gigi, and then she finds that the only after-school club still available is GAS (Girls Achieving at STEM) which Alice considers extremely uncool. However, with the help of an inspirational teacher and two new best friends, Alice discovers that being cool isn't always what it looks like in teen magazines and that being yourself and being smart can be the coolest thing of all.

Jackie Marchant Illustrated by Loretta Schauer

"I, Dougal Daley, am dead! Ok I'm not actually dead. But if I'm not careful I soon will be."

In this first book, football-loving Dougal Daley finds himself at risk from the mysterious creature living in the garden shed. Nobody believes him but as a precaution, he sets about writing his will – rewarding those who help him and disinheriting those who get on his bad side. Meanwhile, as limbs and windows alike are broken by rogue footballs and unhinged canines, Dougal finds himself in all sorts of trouble ... and NONE of it is his fault!

"Mum," I yelled. "Sybil, the Goliath bird-eater spider, is no longer in my room!"

In this second book, football-loving Dougal Daley once again finds himself on the wrong side of almost everyone. Someone has stolen his pet tarantula, Sybil (named after his sister – they both have very hairy legs), and she (the spider, not the sister) is being held to ransom. Dougal must fulfill the kidnapper's demands before poor Sybil is tortured ... one leg at a time!

Dougal Daley I'm Phenomenal

Jackie Marchant Illustrated by Loretta Schauer

"Mum accused me of being too quiet. It's only because I was thinking about all the money I was going to make from my very secret website Dynamo DD Phenomenal Enterprises."

In this third book Dougal finds that making money isn't quite as easy as he thinks. In fact it causes him more trouble than it's worth as he gets caught up in a fast-paced adventure that he finds impossible to control. There's the mysterious Igor Meerkat, poisonous ants and a horned lizard that shoots blood out of her eyes all caught up in the mayhem. But, of course, NONE of it is Dougal's fault!

"The girl and her dog sit eating salty liquorice on a half-built suspension bridge in the Amazon rainforest."

Elise is lonely. Her mum is far away in Brazil helping to finish the building of a suspension bridge and her dad is busy trying to get by as a musician in the Danish city of Copenhagen where they live. So when Elise asks for a dog to keep her company, her dad finds it hard to refuse. But the dog that Elise ends up with is no ordinary dog. He is second-hand, he looks like an ugly rabbit, he smells of cheese...and he can talk!

"This book is evidence that humour can travel. Including a darkly hilarious set-piece Halloween party and mad characters, it is quirky, clever and original and plotted to make the most of punch lines."

Double Felix

Sally Harris Illustrated by Maria Serrano

Eleven-year-old Felix Twain's life revolves around the number two.

He skips every second step when he takes the stairs, taps door handles twice and positions objects in pairs. The problem has become so bad that Felix is on the verge of being expelled from school because the principal has had enough of trying to run the school around his very specific rules.

Then Charlie Pye arrives and turns his world upside down. She's grown up with very few rules. She eats cereal for lunch, calls a boat home, and has a very loose interpretation of school uniform. The question is, can Felix ever learn to be wrong when he is so obsessed with being right?

A story about a boy with OCD that shines a light on problems caused by OCD and Autism.

We are delighted that our wonderful middle grade title, Double Felix, has been chosen to be part of a brand new Reading Agency project. Funded by Arts Council England, 3,600 children's book packs (including Double Felix) were sent out to 3,600 libraries across the UK. A stunning achievement!

"This is a really heart-warming book about being different, facing challenges and making friends"

Ginger Librarian, reviewer and book blogger

Children's Laureate, Cressida Cowell, has launched her flagship Life-changing Libraries project to showcase the power of library spaces in primary schools. Over the next year, six very different primary schools across England will be helped to develop a reading for pleasure culture. Each of the six schools taking part will receive a bespoke library space, stocked with a specially curated booklist of approximately 1,000 titles chosen by BookTrust's expert team, with guidance from the Centre for Literacy in Primary Education. Our 'Elise and the Second-hand Dog' was one of the books selected and we are proud to be a small part of this project.
